US Officials Defend Pro-Life Policies Against Abortion-Supporters at United Nations

GENEVA, At the UN in Geneva recently, European countries attacked the U.S. record on abortion. The U.S. pushed back.

In a three-hour grilling during the Universal Periodic Review the U.S. sat in the dock while various European countries asserted that abortion is a human right. Though abortion is legal in the United States,

Taking legal action against the English and Welsh government for forcing houses of worship

100+ UK Religious Leaders

Take Legal Action

Over Ban On Sunday Worship Services

More than 100 church leaders are taking legal action against the English and Welsh government for forcing houses of worship to cease in-person Sunday services due to another COVID-19 lockdown.

The pastors say the restrictions on public worship violate Article 9 of the Human Rights Act on the freedom to express religious beliefs.

The Christian Legal Centre represents the group and argues that these actions by both governments prevent worship while still leaving religious locations open for secular activities.

God's Plans Cannot Be Deterred!!

There is, indeed, a plan! The scripture makes it explicitly obvious that God's plan is perfect and it is eternal! Let us check out some of them! But the plans of the LORD stand firm forever, the purposes of his heart through all generations (Psalm 33: 11). Many are the plans in a person's heart, but it is the LORD's purpose that prevails (Proverbs 19: 21). "This is the plan devised against the whole earth; and this is the hand that is stretched out against all the nations. For the Lord of hosts has planned, and who can frustrate it? And as for His stretched-out hand, who can turn it back?" (Isaiah 14:26-27). Along with the above verses, let me also record the words of Jesus Himself! And He went a little beyond them, and fell on His face and prayed, saying, "My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me; yet not as I will, but as Thou wilt." And He came to the disciples and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, "So, you men could not keep watch with Me for one hour? (Matthew 26:39-40).

God's plan is unchanging! This is frequently and dogmatically affirmed in the scriptures.

Rev. Manuel Joseph Th.M. Sub-editor, End-Time News

When God called the children of Jacob out of Egypt and made them His people in the wilderness, His plan was to take them to the promised land. Their meekest leader, Moses led them in their ways and gave them the commandments of God. But one fine day Moses passed away having seen the land from afar. To my understanding, the people of Israel must have been shocked to learn the death of Moses. For a moment, they must have thought about their long awaited conquest of Canaan. They must have felt incomplete without the presence of Moses going in front of them. But in case of God, He was determined that His plans for His people would never be stopped. He made Joshua, the servant of Moses, to be their leader and the conquest of Canaan and its division were placed on his shoulder. As we pass reading the last chapter of Joshua (24), we see the work of God, started by Moses, accomplished by Joshua to be an everlasting testimony of the unchanging

Chapter 1

The Person of the Holy Spirit

Chapter Objectives:

1. To give reasons for the importance of the study of the person of the Holy Spirit.
2. To understand the Holy Spirit more clearly. The importance of the study of the person of the Holy Spirit

The study of the person of the Holy Spirit is important because, first of all, we live in a period where a lot of believers and ministers have confusion concerning the person of the Holy Spirit. Another reason is that, in a believer's perspective the work of the Holy Spirit is more prominent than that of the other members of the Trinity in this period.

Holy Spirit whether a Person or a Force
The term Holy Spirit is found ninety-three times in ninety-two verses in the Bible.<sup>1</sup> The term Spirit of the Lord can be seen 24 times in the O T and 4 times in the N T. The Holy Spirit is clearly depicted as a person in Isaiah chapter 63 verse 10 which is as follows. "But they rebelled and grieved His Holy Spirit; Therefore, He turned Himself to become their enemy, He fought against them." People cannot rebel and grieve a force, but only a person can be grieved. If the Holy Spirit is only a force and not a person how the usage of personal pronouns such as he (2 times), and himself in this verse can be justified? More over the phrases "child by the Holy Spirit" (Matt. 1:18), "speaks/blasphemes against the Holy Spirit" (Matt.12:32; Mk.3:29; Lk. 12:10), "the Holy Spirit will teach" (Lk. 12:12), "He will teach" (Jn. 14:26), "the Holy Spirit foretold" (Ac. 1:16), "to lie to the Holy Spirit" (Ac. 5:3), "we are witnesses of these things; and so is the Holy Spirit" (Ac. 5:32), "uncircumcised in heart and ears are always resisting the Holy Spirit" (Ac.7:51), "the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them" (Ac.13:2), "sent out by the Holy Spirit" (Ac.13:4), "it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us" (Ac.15:28), "having been forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia" (Ac.16:6), "the Holy Spirit solemnly testifies" (Ac. 20:23), "the Holy Spirit has made you overseers" (Ac. 20:28), "the Holy Spirit says" (Heb.3:7), "the Holy Spirit rightly spoke through Isaiah" (Ac.28:25), "do not grieve the Holy Spirit" (Eph.4:30), and "the Holy Spirit is signifying this" (Heb.9:8) are clearly indicating that Holy Spirit is a person. The term His Spirit is used 8 times to denote the Holy Spirit. The phrase "they were rebellious against His Spirit" is seen in Psalms 106 verse 33. The phrase "the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and He said to me" "Say, 'Thus says the LORD", is found in Ezekiel chapter 11 verse 5. If the Spirit of the Lord is not a person but mere a force, this does not give any sense at all. The passages that have the phrases such as the Spirit told me (Ac.11:12), the Spirit said to Philip (Ac. 8:29) are not part of any poetry but simple narrative sentences and these cannot be a mere personification of an impersonal thing. The phrase "He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches" (Rev. 2:7, 11, 17, 29; 3:6, 13, 22) which is repeated

7 times in 2 chapters also shows that Holy Spirit is a person.

The Holy Spirit is mentioned as a para,klhtoj parakletos in 5 verses in the Bible (Jn. 14:16, 26; 15:26; 16:7; 1Jn, 2:1). In the Gospel of John chapter 14 verse 16 and 17 we read: "I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Helper, that He may be with you forever; that is the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it does not see Him or know Him, but you know Him because He abides with you and will be in you." In this passage Jesus Christ says that the Holy Spirit is another parakletos just as He is. Since Jesus Christ is a person the Holy Spirit must also be a person. According to Jesus Christ the work of another parakletos - the Holy Spirit, are as follows. (1) He will teach the disciples all things and bring to their remembrance all that Jesus said to them (Jn.14:26). (2) He will testify about Jesus (Jn. 15:26).

(3) He will convict the world concerning sin and righteousness and judgment (Jn.16:8).

(4) He will guide the disciples into all the truth (Jn. 16:13). (5) He will glorify Jesus (Jn.16: 14).

Only a person can do all these works. Frequent usages of masculine pronouns for the Holy Spirit also prove the case.

The Deity of the Holy Spirit

The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews begins a quotation from the O. T. with a phrase "just as the Holy Spirit says" (Heb. 3:7-11). The quoted passage is taken from the Psalm 95 verses 7 to 11. It is very clear from the usage of the term Lord (Yehovah) in verses 1, 3, and 6 of the Psalms 95 that the person who speaks is none other than Yehovah. Similar quotations can be seen in other passages of the Bible (Heb. 10:15-17 cf. Jer. 31:33 – 34). If the divine name Yehovah is used for the Holy Spirit, then He is God. Proximity of the Holy Spirit with other members of the Trinity is visible in the baptismal formula (Matt. 28:19) and benediction formula (2Cor. 13:14) and it also establishes His divinity. We find in the Bible that the Holy Spirit is said to possess incommunicable attributes<sup>3</sup> of God. In Epistle to the Hebrews chapter 9 verse 14 we see a term "eternal Spirit" which shows that He is eternal. God only is eternal.

When the Psalmist asks that, "Where can I go from Your Spirit? Or where can I flee from Your presence?" (Ps. 139:7), he equates the omnipresence of God with the omnipresence of the Spirit. No one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God (1 Cor. 2:11). This verse clearly announces that the Holy Spirit is omniscient. If the Holy Spirit possesses incommunicable attributes of God, then He is God.

The Holy Spirit not only possesses incommunicable attributes of God but also involves in works that are commonly ascribed to God. Genesis chapter 1 verse 2 says, "The earth was formless and void, and darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God was moving over the surface of the waters." In Psalm 104 verse 30 we read: "You send forth Your Spirit, they are created; And You renew the face of the ground." These verses show the activities of the Holy Spirit in relation to the creation of the world. According to Second Timothy chapter 3 verse 16 the source of the Scripture is God and in Second Peter chapter 1 verse 21 it is ascribed to the Holy Spirit. The person who regenerates a sinner is the Holy Spirit in John chapter 3 verse 5 where as in chapter 1 verse 13 it is God. Apostle Paul also testifies the same in his epistle to Titus chapter 3 verses 5 to 7. "He saved us, not on the basis of deeds which we have done in righteousness, but according to His mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewing by the Holy Spirit, whom He poured out upon us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, so that being justified by His grace we would be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life." The involvement of Trinity in the resurrection of believers is explained in the Bible and the passages read as: "Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live" (Jn. 5:25). "For this is the will of My Father, that everyone who beholds the Son and believes in Him will have eternal life, and I Myself will raise him up on the last day" (Jn. 6:40). "But if the Spirit of Him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, He who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through His Spirit who dwells in you" (Rom. 8:11). The Holy Spirit not only regenerates a person but also raise him/her from the dead. If the Holy Spirit is involved in the creation of the world, regeneration of a sinner, and resurrection of believers then He must be God. "Do you not know that you are a temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?" (1 Cor. 3:16). "Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God, and that you are not your own?" (1 Cor. 6:19). If the body that dwells the Holy Spirit is a temple of God, then Holy Spirit must be God.

"The English and Welsh Governments have now introduced two successive sets of lockdown measures which have completely prohibited and criminalised public communal worship, a core aspect of religious life for the Claimants and their congregations," the claim reads. "With these measures, the Governments have inflicted a terrible human cost, without rigorous consideration of less onerous restrictions, and as part of a package which leaves places of worship open for secular activities."

Places of worship were ordered to shut down in March, then allowed to reopen in June to begin holding socially distanced public services. The latest lockdown only permits churches to be open for small funerals and individual prayer.

But the church leaders say canceling Sunday services again is unreasonable because houses of worship have implemented procedures that comply with COVID-19 guidelines that reduce the risk of spreading the virus.

Pastor Ade Omooba MBE, who is leading the court challenge, said, "We have been left with no alternative but to pursue a judicial review on this crucial issue and at this significant moment for the freedom to worship in church in this country. We call on the government to recognise the vital importance of church ministry and the principle of church autonomy from the state."

And the former Bishop of Rochester, Michael Nazir-Ali, emphasized that pastors recognize the dangers associated with the pandemic but defending religious liberty is paramount.

"The principle of the freedom of worship needs to be maintained and churches have been assiduous in maintaining safety in buildings and among worshippers," he said. "There is widespread unease among many church leaders about the lack of evidence and consultation regarding the ban on collective worship."

"Church leaders see collective worship not as an optional extra but as vital to the mental and spiritual health of believers, especially for the lonely and vulnerable."

Some government officials, who have discussed COVID restrictions throughout the pandemic, wrote to the British Prime Minister Boris Johnson to point out that there is no scientific evidence that justifies canceling in-person services again, considering the measures that churches have taken to remain safe.

Former UK Prime Minister Theresa May also expressed concern regarding the government's policy.

"My concern is the government today making it illegal to conduct an act of public worship for the best of intentions, sets a precedent that could be misused for a government in the future with the worst of intentions. It has unintended consequences," she said nature of God's plan. His plans are unchanging.

Then pandemic we all face is not an obstacle or a deterrent for the plans of God regarding you and your household. In fact, this season itself is in the plan of God as we know that nothing happens without His knowledge. next year, we would like to have three to four large planes," he stated. "As of yesterday, we now have been added to our fleet a Boeing 767-200ER. ... It seats 238 people and can go anywhere in the world with one-stop. It carries 30 tons of cargo."

In spite of its new status, there will still be differences between Judah 1 and the other airlines that have become household names in the U.S. and around the world."We will be non-scheduled and we do not have to have approved routes," Aaron said. "So, that means we can go where we want when we want, unlike most airlines ... that have to have certain schedules that they fly, have to have certain routes. We don't have to do that." While missionaries will have to pay airfare, Judah 1 has "no baggage fees and no cargo fees." "So all of the missionaries' cargo goes for free," Aaron explained.

Since it's likely that Judah 1's imminent launch as the first-ever Christian airline will take place in the middle of the coronavirus pandemic, Aaron says there will be extra precautions in place just as the non-profit ministry has already done with flights that have taken off during the pandemic. "Our airplanes are sanitized," he assured. "We have a machine that literally kills 99.9% of the germs in the aircraft. After every flight, we do that." According to Aaron, the airline is presented with an "advantage" because of its humanitarian nature. "We are allowed to go into countries that are locked down, whereas normal airlines cannot," he said.

One example of Judah 1's work is last year when it transported Operation Blessing, a humanitarian group associated with the Christian Broadcasting Network, to the Bahamas to bring relief to the victims of Hurricane Dorian.

Aaron said Judah 1 plans on working with Operation Blessing again in the coming weeks to provide relief to Guatemala, Nicaragua and Honduras — countries that have been hit hard by hurricanes in recent weeks.

Judah 1 has several other partners that it works with in addition to Operation Blessing, including Samaritan's Purse and Eagle Mountain Church.

Aaron told that Judah 1's fleet currently consists of about five planes. The fleet includes the Westwind, which can "take doctors or small teams to the mission field" and has the capability to land on "short runways sometimes found in third-world countries."The Westwind, which has a low deck that "makes boarding easier for Wounded Warrior and Make-a-Wish children," can carry eight passengers and 1,200 pounds of cargo. The Cessna 414, which is used for Wounded Warrior, Make-a-Wish and disaster relief scouting, can carry up to six passengers. The largest aircraft in the fleet, the MD83, can carry up to 120 people and 17,000 pounds of cargo.

But there are plans to expand the fleet to include airplanes with even larger capacities in the near future. In addition to expanding the fleet, Aaron is also open to the possibility of establishing operations at other hubs in the U.S. besides Shreveport. "If we have people on the East Coast that want to fly, we will look at establishing hubs for Judah 1 in other states," he said.

Faith: - Faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. (Hebrews 11: 1). The basis of a sturdy Christian life is the deep rooted faith. The faith is that God has given all His commandments to us in His and they are for our Wellbeing. The faith is that all His promises will come to pass in the due time. The faith is that nothing will happen in my life unless God knows it. This faith makes us perfect candidates in our spiritual life. When the howling storms of trouble approach us, when we are tossed by the high waves in the sea of life, the only words that resounding in our ears should be the voice of our loving God, "calm down", the words He used to calm the sea. The faith in these words will bring in right before our eyes many wonders. Let us consider an incident that we see in the Acts of the Apostles 14: 8-10. While they were at Lystra, Paul and Barnabas came upon a man with crippled feet. He had been that way from birth, so he had never walked. These three peculiarities that are mentioned reveal the impossibilities in his life. Though he wanted to walk, he could not do it. Yet, when he listened to the preaching of Paul, Paul realized that the man had the faith to be healed. So Paul called to him in a loud voice, "Stand up!" And the man jumped to his feet and started walking. This is the faith that conquers impossibilities! This is the faith that make the crippled walk! In everything, put your complete faith in God. This faith will give us unusual strength to move forward.

Prayer – Lord, strengthen me in the faith and make me steadfast that I may walk appropriately before you! Amen!

WORLD'S FIRST CHRISTIAN AIRLINE LAUNCHES IN 2021 WITH AN AIM TO TRANSPORT MISSIONARIES WORLDWIDE

A nonprofit ministry is set to launch the first-ever Christian airline next year, providing a source of travel for missionaries seeking to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ across the globe.

Judah 1, currently based out of Shreveport Regional Airport in Shreveport, Louisiana, has already carried small groups of missionaries to disaster areas and mission fields in its capacity as a private airline. But starting next year, Judah 1 will "go from being private, which is what we are now, to an actual airline standard," Judah 1 President and CEO Everett Aaron told The Christian Post in an interview.

When this happens, Judah 1 will have a Federal Aviation Administration certification, putting it in the same league as well-known airlines such as Delta. While the ministry currently deploys smaller aircraft for small teams of missionaries, the airline is planning to acquire larger planes that can fly hundreds of people by the end of 2021. pandemic and fix the economy in a divided nation.

Major US media outlets have called the US presidential election results in the favour of Joe Biden and his running mate Kamala Harris, who will become the first woman, the first Black American and the first American of Asian descent to serve as vice-president of the United States.

Joe Biden, who has spent half a century in public life as a US senator and then Vice-President under Donald Trump's predecessor Barack Obama, will be the oldest person to assume the US president's office at age 78.

Joe Biden, born in Scranton, Pennsylvania, and raised in Delaware, was one of the youngest candidates ever elected to the Senate. Before he took office, his wife and daughter were killed, and his two sons badly injured in a 1972 car crash.

Commuting every night on a train from Washington back to Wilmington, Biden fashioned an everyman political persona to go along with powerful Senate positions, including chairman of the Senate Judiciary and Foreign Relations Committees.

Before 2020, Biden had tried his luck in the presidential race twice before in 1988 and 2008.

Biden's 1988 presidential campaign was done in by plagiarism allegations, and his next bid in 2008 ended quietly. But later that year, he was tapped to be Barack Obama's running mate and he became an influential vice president, steering the administration's outreach to both Capitol Hill and Iraq.

While his reputation was burnished by his time in office and his deep friendship with Obama, Biden stood aside for Clinton and opted not to run in 2016 after his adult son Beau died of brain cancer the year before. Trump's tenure pushed Biden to make one more run as he declared that "the very soul of the nation is at stake."

Biden's victory was driven by strong support from groups including women, African Americans, white voters with college degrees and city-dwellers. He was more than four million votes ahead of Trump in the nationwide popular vote count.

Biden's projected victory came after four days of nail-biting suspense over the outcome of Tuesday's election, with the counting of votes in a handful of battleground states ongoing thanks to a flood of mail-in ballots.

Reacting to his historic win, Joe Biden tweeted, "America, I'm honoured that you have chosen me to lead our great country."

Acknowledging that he will soon be presiding over a deeply divided nation, Joe Biden wrote, "The work ahead of us will be hard, but I promise you this: I will be a President for all Americans – whether you voted for me or not. I will keep the faith that you have placed in me."

The biggest ever turnout of voters — some 160 million people, according to preliminary estimates — poured out across the United States, ultimately favouring Biden's promise of calm to Trump's rollercoaster.

Although a career politician — a widely derided group today — he is seen by many as a sympathetic character, humanized by having endured the loss of his wife, baby daughter and a son. Yet despite his fervent promises to restore America's "soul," Biden will inherit a shaken, angry country.

President-elect Joe Biden has vowed to restore US moral authority in the world but after four years of norms-shattering by Donald Trump, he will have his work cut out for him.

After his narrow victory over Trump, the 77-year-old Joe Biden will be the most experienced new president in decades on foreign policy, but he is also facing questions from the left of his Democratic Party on whether his worldview has kept up with the times. In a speech on foreign policy after he announced his candidacy, Biden denounced Trump for his flirtation both with autocrats abroad and white supremacists at home. "As president, I will remind the world who we are. The United States of America does not coddle dictators. The United States of America gives hate no safe harbour," Biden said in New York.

Joe Biden vowed to hold a summit of democracies within a year and promised immediately to step up international cooperation on the Covid-19 pandemic and climate change.

In a YouTube video published in 2015, Aaron recalled how Judah 1's story dates all the way back to 1994 when the Lord gave him a vision of "airline aircrafts lined up as far as you could see." They were filled with food, medical supplies, Bibles," Aaron recalled. "The engines were fired up and they were ready to go. And there were people ... lined up in front of these planes ready to get on them. But they wouldn't get on the planes."

When he asked God why the people would not get on the plane, he said God responded by saying: "They can't go into the mission field until you get the airplanes. This is what I'm calling you to do." While Aaron first had a vision of Judah 1 nearly three decades ago, the ministry did not become a reality until 2011.

the U.S. has never supported the idea that it is a human right. U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Robert Destro told the governments, "Abortion is legal in the United States, and the U.S. supports both domestic and international programs for women's health at a very high level. But we do reject the proposition that abortion is a matter of international human rights, and affirms that all lives, both born and unborn, should be protected."

Altogether, fourteen countries criticized U.S. pro-life policies, twelve of which belong to the group of western European and allied countries. They urged the U.S. to ensure universal access to "sexual and reproductive health services."

More specifically, the Netherlands called on the U.S. to repeal the Helms Amendment, which bans U.S. foreign assistance from funding abortions, and the Protecting Life in Global Health Assistance policy, formerly called the Mexico City Policy, which bans U.S. funding from foreign organizations that promote or provide abortions. Belgium also asked the U.S. to allow foreign assistance "to support safe abortion services, where legal in the host country" in a written comment.

This emphasis on "sexual and reproductive health services" was unprecedented, but not unexpected. cycle, in keeping with the unambiguous statement issued by Destro.

miles (55 kilometers) east-southeast of the Nicaraguan city of Puerto Cabezas, also known as Bilwi, and moving westward at 9 mph (15 kph). Iota was hitting the Caribbean coasts of Nicaragua and Honduras with torrential rains and strong winds while the western edge began battering the Nicaraguan coast.

Authorities warned that Iota would probably come ashore over areas where Eta's torrential rains saturated the soil, leaving it prone to new landslides and floods, and that the storm surge could reach 15 to 20 feet (4.5 to 6 meters) above normal tides.

That storm surge was on the mind of Yasmina Wriedt on Monday in Bilwi's El Muelle neighborhood, sitting tight against the sea.

"The situation doesn't look good at all," Wriedt said. "We woke up without electricity, with rain and the surf is getting really high."

Wriedt, who works for a small-scale fishing organization called Piquinera, said that the roof of her house was blown off in Eta less than two weeks ago. "We repaired it as best we could, now I think the wind will take it again because they say (Iota) is even stronger," Wriedt said, the sound of hammering echoing around her as neighbors boarded windows and reinforced roofs.

During Eta, the surf came up to just behind her house, where she lives with eight other members of her family. "Today I'm afraid again about losing my house and I'm frightened for all of us who live in this neighborhood."

Wriedt said some neighbors went to stay with relatives elsewhere, but most have stayed. "We're almost all here," she said. "Neither the army nor the government came to move us."

Cairo Jarquin, Nicaragua emergency response project manager for Catholic Relief Services, had just visited Bilwi and smaller coastal communities Friday.

In Wawa Bar, Jarquin said he found "total destruction." People had been working furiously to put roofs back over their families' heads, but now Iota threatened to take what was left.

"The little that remained standing could be razed," Jarquin said. There were other communities farther inland that he was not even able to reach due to the condition of roads. He said he heard that Wawa bar was evacuated again Saturday.

Evacuations were being conducted from low-lying areas in Nicaragua and Honduras near their shared border through the weekend.

Nicaraguan Vice President Rosario Murillo, who is also the first lady, said Monday the government had done everything necessary to protect lives, including the evacuation of thousands. She added that Taiwan had donated 800 tons of rice to help those affected by the storms.

Limborth Bucardo, of the Miskito indigenous ethnic group, said many people had moved to churches in Bilwi. He rode out Eta with his wife and two children at home, but this time decided to move in with relatives in a safer neighborhood.

"We hadn't finished repairing our houses and settling in when another hurricane comes," Bucardo said. "The shelters in Bilwi are already full, packed with people from (surrounding) communities."

MOTHER AND SON KILLED IN INCIDENT OF RELIGIOUS HATRED IN PAKISTAN

Pakistan— According to local reports, two Christians, a mother and son, were killed in an incident of religious hatred in a village located in the Gujranwala district of Pakistan. On Monday, November 9, Yasmeen Masih and her son, Usman, were shot dead by Hassan Shakoor, their Muslim neighbor. According to Sardar Masih, a relative of the deceased, the Christians were killed over a dispute that turned religious.

Weeks prior to the killings, Shakoor's mother, Ishrat, blocked the sewer line coming from the Christians' home. According to Sardar, the Muslim family did not like waste water flowing by their home from the house of an 'untouchable'.

Due to widespread religious discrimination in Pakistan, Christians are often associated with untouchability. Offensive terms, like choora, are used by Pakistan's Muslim population to denote this untouchable status for Christians. On November 9, Ishrat called Yasmeen out of her house and started abusing her for unblocking the sewer line coming from the Christian home. During the dispute, Ishrat called her son, Hassan, who opened fire on Yasmeen. Usman, Yasmeen's son, was caught in the cross fire as he tried to rescue his mother. Both Christians were shot multiple times and were killed on the scene.

First Information Report (FIR) 635/20 has been registered against Ishrat and Hassan at Ahmed Nagar police station. However, no arrests have been made to date.

ANOTHER PAKISTANI CHRISTIAN GIRL BECOMES VICTIM OF FORCED CONVERSION AND FORCED MARRIAGE

though documents produced by Arzoo's family clearly proved her to be 13, the judge refused to review this evidence. Instead, the judge of the high court sided with the falsified documents presented by the kidnapers. The case sparked demonstrations in the region protesting this pattern of injustice. Forced kidnappings and forced conversions have become commonplace in Pakistan and remain a consistent point of fear for the girls in the religious minority communities. Dr. Sabir Michael, a Karachi-based academic, Human Rights defender, and participant organizer of these demonstrations said, "It is the second reported case of abduction, forced conversion, and marriage of the minor Christian girl in Karachi in recent months,

This case prompted demonstrations against these grave injustices in an attempt to give a voice to the suppressed religious minorities of Pakistan.

Pakistan— Arzoo Raja, a 13-year-old Pakistani Christian girl, is the latest victim in the pattern of the kidnapping, forced conversion, and forced marriage of young Christian girls in the country. This case prompted demonstrations against these grave injustices in an attempt to give a voice to the suppressed religious minorities of Pakistan. With these kidnappings taking place now more regularly than before, the religious minorities have been pushed to increasing extremes of discrimination.

Arzoo, from the city of Karachi located in the southern part of Pakistan in the province of Sindh, was abducted by her next door neighbor, Mr. Azhar Ali, taken against her will, forcefully converted to Islam, and married to the 44-year-old kidnapper. Her parents filed an official report with the police department and immediately began pursuing legal action on behalf of their daughter, which resulted in the most recent decision of the high court favoring the 44-year-old kidnapper and upholding the marriage. Although the case filed by the parents was pending in district court, where the abductor refused to disclose the whereabouts of Arzoo, Mr. Ali filed the complaint in High Court for protection on behalf of Arzoo. The judge did not provide a fair opportunity to the plaintiffs, which was a direct violation of Article 10-A of the prevailing state constitutions and issued a one-sided decision without examining the government, school, or church documents clearly stating that the girl was a minor of the age of 13. Moreover, the parents and the lawyers were unable to present their case before the issuance of the said court order. The pending jurisdiction of the lower court and orders for Arzoo to be produced in court were ignored by the high court. Instead of producing her in lower court, Mr. Ali presented Arzoo at the higher court, which was an openly disrespectful and deceiving maneuver by the abductors. Such a strategy is quite indicative of a complicity within the police and the system in regards to this case. As codified in the Sindh Child Marriages Restrained Act of 2013, the province of Sindh has prohibited child marriage and restricted the age of consent to 18 years of age. Even which has increased a sense of fear and insecurity in the Christian community at large.

Since Mr. Ali's two brothers are the employees of the Sindh police, Dr. Michael severely doubted the effectiveness of the police in this case. "A fair trial should be provided, giving the strongest considerations to her status as a minor. Additionally, her medical examination should be conducted independently and she should be placed in the custody of the relevant child protection unit of the Sindh government. Even better, she should preferably be placed in the protection home for the girls and women under the supervision of Justice Majida Rizvi, a chairperson of the Sindh Human Rights Commission."

The international community must speak up on behalf of the oppressed in Pakistan and demand justice for these innocent girls and their families.

BOKO HARAM KILLS 12 CHRISTIANS, KIDNAPS OTHERS

SHOCKING NEWS ▶▶▶▶

Nigeria– Militants believed to part of the original Boko Haram sect under the leadership of AbubakarShekau attacked Takulashi village near Chibok. The attack took place on November 1, 2020 when six gun trucks filled with insurgents entered the village and started shooting. They killed 12 Christians during the attack and were able to escape, kidnapping multiple women and children. They also burned down many homes and businesses.

According to Rev. Zakariya Musa of the Church of the Brethren in Nigeria (EkklesiyarYan’uwa a Nigeria, EYN), 9 of the 12 people killed were members of his church. One of the other three was a pastor of the local COCIN church. The final two were vigilantes trying to protect their community members.

This attack is one of the many that Bok Haram has conducted against Christians and their communities across Northern Nigeria. Over the past decade, Boko Haram is believed to have killed more than 50,000 people and displaced millions of others. Many of those killed and displaced have been Christians. The EYN church has lost many of its members. According to reports released by the church leadership, as many as 20,000 members have been killed since 2009.

Ugandan Mob Kills Pastor After Radio Broadcast

Uganda – According to Morningstar News, a group of Muslim extremists in Northern Uganda killed a pastor who had just finished a radio broadcast. According to the news report, the pastor had spoken on the radio about the differences between Islam and Christianity, which had angered a lot of Muslims in the area. The news agency had talked with the son of David Omara, the pastor. His son, Simon Okut, said that a person had called his father to appreciate his radio broadcast and asked him to come and speak to some of his friends.

However, when the father and son arrived at the meeting place, they were ambushed by six individuals who started beating David immediately. As they beat the pastor to death, his son was able to escape to safety, but was not able to help his father. Simon said that as they beat him, one of the assailants said, "This man ought to die for using the Koran and saying Allah is not God but an evil god collaborating with satanic powers. As they were hitting my father with blunt objects and strangling him, I fled to save my life. Two attackers ran after me but could not get hold of me."

This attack is worrisome as freedom of religion is supposed to be guaranteed by the government in Uganda. The President of Uganda, Yoweri Museveni, has strongly reacted to attacks of this nature in the past, often cracking down on any community or group who attacks another. Due to his strong hand in leading his country, many Christians in the West of the country continue to vote for him each election season. They say that he stops terrorist attacks from violent extremist groups who used to invade their communities. Hopefully this same leadership will help identify and prosecute the men that murdered Pastor Omara.
